

New Yorkers For A Day Or Two

Panama and Colon as Free Ports Now Being Agitated on the Isthmus.

By Roger Batchelder.

"I think that our relations should become closer and closer," said Don Ramon, Ariza Fend, Director of the National Bank of Panama, who has arrived at the Astor. "Finally we have much in common, and, of course, Panama is an important strategic point for the United States."

"Business has shown a great improvement in Panama," he went on. "We are now hoping that Allison T. Ruan, the American fiscal agent in Panama, may be reappointed when his term expires on the first of the year. His splendid efforts have resulted in economic prosperity and in such permanent improvements as excellent roads in the interior."

"Our Association of Commerce has strongly urged that Panama and Colon be made free ports, and, as the principal revenue of the government is derived from the taxes on imports of merchandise, the President recently voiced his disapproval of the scheme. I believe, however, that a free zone, such as your power has suggested for New York, might serve the purpose."

OUR "SQUARE" DEPARTMENT.
Coincident with the visit here of fifty Cuban Masons comes the story of the finding in Havana of the house in which Eliza Kent Kane, Arctic explorer and prominent Mason, died many years ago. It was told at the Pennsylvania by Judge William E. Summers, of Milburn, N. J., who himself made the search which was finally rewarded.

"Over a century ago," he related, "Sir John Franklin, an English Mason, was lost while exploring the Arctic. Because of their fraternal relations, Brother Kane went in search of him, and his brave act made him internationally famous. He died in Havana, and in 1920, on the 100th anniversary of his birth, I tried to find his last home. I searched the records and then combed Havana, but without success. Last year, with additional data, I went back and found the old house. The pilgrimage which I organized marked the dwelling in due form with a bronze tablet, in commemoration of one of the staunchest of our brothers."

MORE ENGLISH DIARIES.
The greater or less success of the publication of the intimate relations of Margaret Aspinall and other English citizens has inspired almost every one in Great Britain to put pen to paper for our benefit, according to Francis T. Bush of Chicago, who is at the McAlpin after a trip abroad.

"All who have close-ups of the great or near great are counting on a life of ease," he reported. "My London tailor delighted in reminiscing about his prominent clients, and declared that he would soon put their toiles in book form. The head porter of my hotel also said that he was putting the finishing touches on the story of his experiences."

LET'S ALL SAVE MONEY.
"Although women spend 85 per cent. of the money which is made in the world, the public schools in the United States do not teach our girls very much about money—how to earn it, how to spend it and above all, how to save it," stated Edith McClure Patterson, of Dayton, Ohio, who is at the Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Patterson is Chairman of Thrift for the State of Ohio, under the auspices of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and her work is backed by the National Retail Merchants Association and the Retail Research Association.

"We aim to put every family in Dayton, on a budget, and then to have the work gradually spread through the States until it becomes nation-wide," declared Mrs. Patterson. "The merchants are back of us because when a woman comes into their stores and buys whimsically and unintelligently, perhaps beyond her means, the goods come back to them as she fails to buy her bills. In other event the transaction is a liability and not an asset to the store. What the merchants want is not to overload on the women of the country things they do not need, but to train them to steady, intelligent and efficient buying. That is what we wish to teach our women."

FARTHEST FROM HOME.
The "New Yorker For A Day or Two" who is farthest from home to-day is C. D. Bradley, who is at the Commodore. His home town, Vienna, is about 4,700 miles from Broadway.

ACCUSES OFFICIAL OF $100,000 THEFT
"Misadvice" Blamed for Arrest of Inserting Machine Firm's Treasurer.

OTTO L. Auerbach, forty, a printer of No. 1274 Pacific Street, Brooklyn, was locked up at Police Headquarters last night, accused of the theft of 150,000 shares of stock valued at $100,000. He was arrested by Frederick W. Hamberg, Secretary of the Automatic Inserting Machine Corporation of No. 154 Nassau Street, at No. 27 Thames Street, yesterday afternoon. Detective Dumphy of the Old Slip Station accompanied them to Police Headquarters.

Mr. Hamberg said last night that the charge against Mr. Auerbach grew out of "misadvice on the part of his lawyer." Auerbach, he said, was Treasurer of the concern, and was withholding a certificate of stock of greater value than $100,000, but refused to divulge further details.

Lewis L. Olson, listed as President of the concern, and as living at No. 106 West 61st Street, an apartment house, was not known at that address.
